

A vibrant movie poster for Disney's Moana. The scene depicts Moana and the demigod Maui on their traditional Polynesian voyaging canoe, the Hula, as they sail across a vast, deep blue ocean. The canoe's large, tan sail is decorated with a prominent red spiral motif. Maui, with his characteristic green loincloth and a large, curved, scaly tail, stands at the stern, while Moana is positioned at the bow. The ocean is dynamic, with white-capped waves crashing against the side of the canoe. In the background, distant, lush green islands with jagged peaks rise from the sea under a bright blue sky filled with soft, white clouds. Several white birds are seen in flight in the upper right portion of the sky.

THE OCEAN IS CALLING.
